

Alpha – First Letter of the Greek alphabet .
'I am the beginning'

Cross – Most recognisable symbol of a Christian.

Rainbow – Sign of keeping promises - God's faithfulness and his promise to never again destroy the earth by flood

Triquetra – the sign of the trinity. The Father, Son and Holy Spirit all joined together . [Also find the fish in the picture!!- another Christian sign]

Natal Star – Key symbol for the Birth of Christ, also the sign of the cross

Omega– Last Letter of the Greek alphabet .
'I am the end'

Alpha Glass:

Red is the color of blood and therefore is the liturgical color for the commemoration of martyred saints. Red is used as the liturgical color for Pentecost, since it is the color of fire.

As the color of light, yellow may be used to represent divinity.

Cross Glass:

Blue, the color of the sky, is symbolic of heaven. It may also be used to symbolize truth. Blue is gaining acceptance as a liturgical color for Advent.

As the color of light, yellow may be used to represent divinity.

Rainbow Glass:

Seven is the number of perfection. God rested on the seventh day, Paul lists seven gifts of the Spirit and Jesus spoke seven utterances from the cross. The number seven is especially prominent in the apocalyptic Book of Revelation, in which there are seven seals, seven churches and many other things numbering seven.

Triquetra Glass:

Green is the color of plant life, abundant in spring. It is used to represent the triumph of life over death. Green is the liturgical color for the Trinity season in some traditions, and may be used during Epiphany in others.

Purple is the color for penitence and mourning. It is also the color of royalty. Purple is the liturgical color for the seasons of Advent and Lent.

Star Glass:

Four can represent the Four Evangelists (authors of the Gospels), the four corners of the earth, or the four seasons.

Omega Glass:

The Alpha and Omega symbols are often combined with the cross, chi rho, or other Christian symbols.
