

BLAST FROM THE PAST!

Dr. Stone finds painting on wall of cave.

BREAKING NEWS:

On Monday 9th October, in the morning 10:15, all of year 3 gathered in the Great Hall of St Mary's Junior School to witness the amazing discovery of Dr. Stone's cave picture in Southern France, which claims that he has been to the Stone-Age!

This is what he had to say: "I've done it. I have found the proof that I need and it's only my 50th cave!"

Complaints have been coming in, that Dr. Stone looked an awful lot like a teacher from St Mary's, called Mr. Gibbs. But he told year 3 he's really Timothy Stone. He claims that this picture was drawn by Om (Timothy's Stone-Age companion).

The Archeologist transformation

He also showed year 3 a Stone-Age bowl that was millions of years old! Then he showed them a mighty, sharp spear tip! He turned a member of year 3 into a young archeologist, who dug up the spear tip! The member of year 3, was called Dr. James.

The reason he came in was to prove he had time traveled back to the Stone-Age. The second reason was to help the year 3's with their learning about the Stone-Age. Last but not least, the last reason was to answer some of their questions!
