Klara and Stig were playing with a ball in the garden.

"You should have caught that!" shouted Klara to Stig, as the ball went through the open back door, into the kitchen. Granny dropped a plate in surprise. She was cross, although she knew Klara and Stig had only done it accidentally. Klara had to crawl on the floor to pick up all the various bits of plate that had smashed. She pulled herself back up to standing position, when she had all the broken bits of plate back in her possession. It was a plate Granny only used occasionally, therefore she wasn't too upset.
